“We are the stories we live through, and these stories create magical moments that inspire ideas. Art is the most beautiful way of sealing in time all those memories we hold on to, once those experiences are gone.”

Amber Field & Banana Bloom / Made in Italy

Uniqueness of the product

Amber Field and Banana Bloom products are crafted using traditional third-firing silk-screen techniques, combined with the meticulous application of colored granillas blended in the body and reactive to custom pigments. This artisanal process allows for endless nuances of tone and depth, giving each piece its own unique character.

Every granilla is applied dry by hand and fired at high temperature, a demanding procedure that enhances the material's natural texture and brilliance. The result is a rich, sculptural surface with a remarkable sense of volume and relief – a level of craftsmanship and dimensionality impossible to achieve through single firing.

These pieces are a true celebration of ceramic tradition and innovation, where patience, precision, and artistry converge to create something timeless.
